

This map was was on a piece of thick cardboard in the Surveyors Department at Altrincham Town Hall and was photographed in two parts and the negatives have been scanned and converted back to one image and due to the fact that the camera was hand held there may be a little bit of distortion from the original. I was told that due to the changes being made which would result in this department moving to Stretford the original which was showing its age would most likely be thrown away.

Map showing the site of the new Altrincham & Bowdon Station opened in 1881 prepared by the town surveyors department to show the new roads required coloured in red
N.H.Spilsbury