

---

This book is a record of the types of buildings in the town centre extant in the year 2000, describing how they came to be there and their later condition and use at the Millennium.