

---

Artist Stella Corral was provided with historic images and maps for inspiration and content for her artwork in the waiting area at the new hospital on Railway Street. It was the result of public engagement which brought out the theme of community and a sense of place.